

South Cortland Cemetery Notes (John Hoeschele; current as of April 24, 2011)

Cemetery location: Cortlandville Tax map #: 95-10-07

Property class: 695 (cemetery)

> The listing below is a combination of transcriptions taken at Cemetery between 2009-2010 and those taken by Katherine Worden Cutts (Cortland) in 1932, now on file at the Cortland County Historical Society. As such, it constitutes a fairly accurate indication of the burials within the South Cortland Cemetery – though some headstones are now illegible or missing altogether.

> The column marked “Leads, Additional Info, etc.” – and the running pages beneath the table itself – are ongoing research and findings from misc. sources, including online searches, findings at the CCHS research, information provided by descendants, etc.

McALLISTER - At Shipman, Ill., the 9th inst., Morgan McALLISTER, aged 24 years. Mr. McALLISTER left Cortland some three years since, and found employment on the Chicago and St. Louis Railroad. While passing from one car to another as the train was in motion, he made a mis-step, falling between the cars and four passing over him. We learn that Mr. McALLISTER was a faithful employee, always at his post and doing his duty. His remains were brought home and services held in the Christian Church at south Cortland."  From Cortland County Standard (1870): 18 Oct 1870

							Died. McALLISTER - In Shipman, Ill., Sept. 7th, Morgan McALLISTER, aged 24 years. The deceased was formerly of South Cortland, but for the past three years had been in the employ of the Chicago, Alton and St. Louis R.R. Co. as brakeman. On the night of the 7th ult., while passing along the top of the train, and just on the point of stepping from one car to another, the coupling broke, and the cars separating, he was precipitated to the track, where four of the cars passed over him, injuring him so severely that he died in about five hours. His remains were accompanied home by Mr. Zera TANNER, who was in the employ of the same road. We consider that the kindness of Mr. TANNER is worthy of this mention. Morgan is spoken of as upright and honest, and always at his post. His death was painfully sudden."
McAllister	Robert		1816	1879	63 yrs	Husband of Caroline McAllister	Shared stone with Caroline (Reads: "Mother &amp; Father") From Cortland County Democrat 1879 "7 Nov 1879 Suicide. Robert McALLISTER, of South Cortland, committed suicide by cutting his throat Wednesday morning, at about four o'clock. He went out of the house shortly before that hour, and when his family went to look for him, he was found just around the corner of the house dead. The instrument used was an ordinary pocket knife, with which he had made an incision on each side of the throat, severing the veins. He had shown some signs of insanity for some days past, and had been carefully watched by members of the family. Mr. McALLISTER was a man of more than ordinary intelligence, and was well posted on all subjects. He was between fifty and sixty years of age. The coroner held an inquest on Wednesday, and the jury found a verdict substantially in accordance with the above facts." From 1886 Cortland Democrat, his widow's obit notice: "Died. McALLISTER - At South Cortland, June 8th, 1886, Mrs. Caroline McALLISTER, widow of the late Robert

							McALLISTER, aged 72 years.  Below with her no more you'll meet, Her voice you'll hear no more Till Jesus bids you hail and greet, Her, on the other shore."

War

							Vets. I don't know where the father was born, but the sons were born near Stonington, CT or Voluntown, RI which are across state lines from each other. My husband is a descendant of James. His Rev War file had very little info, however John Jr had a great deal of information on the family, including the family Bible. Because of this, I keep information on both brothers, and learn more about my James through his brothers. Did you happen to take a photo of Hannah Whittsley Stanbro's grave, which should be next to John's? She is the daughter of Isaac Whittsley. Perhaps his grave is in the area also. If you want more info, I'd be happy to send it. John had 12 children and I have tracked many of their descendants."
